General Information.

History.

The institution was founded in the year 1848. The Baptists of Eastern North Carolina and Virginia felt the need of establishing a female school possessing all appliances essential to a thorough and liberal education. They accordingly erected a beautiful and commodious brick building, four stories high, and furnished it with an elegance and liberality which enabled it at once to take rank with the best schools in the South. This rank it still maintains, and after a successful course of fifty-seven years, during which time it has graduated more than three hundred young women and contributed to the education of a much larger number, it is still the exclusive and unincumbered property of the Baptist denomination. The Institute has peculiar claims on the patronage of Baptists. It offers high-grade scholarship upon reasonable terms. It is the purpose of the present administration that it shall be kept fully up with the demands of the age.

Location.

The site embraces a tract of twenty-eight acres adjacent to the town of Murfreesboro. This secures the important advantages of privacy and affords ample room for exercise within the inclosure.

The beautiful lawn immediately in front of the main building, laid out in walks and ornamented with fine shade trees, shrubbery and flowers, adds greatly to the attractiveness of the place, and affords at the same time inducements to outdoor exercise.

Health.

Murfreesboro is situated on a bluff about ninety feet high, on the south side of, and a mile from, the Meherrin River. It would be difficult to find better drainage. Two deep ravines cross the town on one side, while a third passes around the other side of it.

This location was selected in preference to several others on account of its celebrity for health. The history of the school for fifty-seven years fully sustains this reputation. The annual health record of the school since its foundation shows an average in medical bills of less than twenty-five cents per pupil, a record that challenges comparison with that of any similar school in the United States. There has not been a case of serious sickness during the past eight years—the term of service of the present administration. No location, however, can insure permanent health to those who disregard the means of promoting it. As culture of mind without health of body would be comparatively valueless, special pains are taken to preserve the health and promote the physical development of pupils by furnishing a plentiful supply of well-cooked food, by insuring sufficient time for sleep, and by requiring necessary “indoor” and “outdoor” exercise.

Government.

The government is that of a well-regulated home. It is regarded as of first importance that pupils be induced to act from correct principles; hence, appeals to reason and conscience are mainly relied on to enforce rules and stimulate diligence.

Boarding pupils are not permitted to make visits or receive them, except from relations or friends from their own neighborhoods, and then in case of young men only on written permission from parents or guardians given directly to the President or to the Lady Principal.

Students are required to conduct their correspondence through the Institute mail.

No pupil is permitted to open an account with a merchant without permission from her parent or guardian.

Costly dressing and the useless expenditure of money are discouraged. Clothing must be legibly marked.

Every pupil, on application for admission, is examined on her previous acquirements, and is placed in such studies as the Faculty deem best for her, due regard being had for the wishes of her parents as to the “Course of Study” she shall pursue. Ornamental branches are taken only with explicit consent of parent or guardian.

When studies have been assigned to a pupil, no change is allowed, except for reasons satisfactory to the Faculty.

It is very important that pupils enter at the beginning of the session, as classes are then formed and new studies commenced. An absence of a few weeks frequently renders it impossible to regain a position in a class. To encourage prompt attendance, no deduction is made for loss of time while this position is retained.

New pupils are received at any time, and after the first four weeks of the session are charged only from time of entering. Pupils are regarded as entered for the entire session, and no deduction is made for absence during the session, unless providentially called away.

In protracted sickness, no deduction will be made so long as a pupil remains in the Institute and holds her position in classes.

Sessions and Vacations.

The scholastic year is divided into two terms, thus:

FALL TERM.—Beginning Wednesday, September 13, 1905; ending Tuesday, January 16, 1906 (Christmas holidays from Friday, December 22, to Tuesday, January 2, 1906).

SPRING TERM.—Beginning Wednesday, January 17, 1906, and ending with the Annual Commencement, Wednesday, May 16, 1906.

Library and Cabinet.

The Institute possesses a select library and a well-selected cabinet of natural and artificial curiosities.

Religious Instruction.

The proper development and direction of the moral and religious faculties are of paramount importance in the education of youth. The founders of the Institute incorporated in its system of instruction and discipline the Christian religion as a prominent and permanent feature. The Bible is the best and only text-book of paramount and supreme authority in the matters of doctrine and practice constituting the system of the Christian religion. To this Book, the supreme and only authoritative standard in all matters of religious faith and practice, we point the pupils, urging its teachings as the truth. We insist that the Bible is its own best interpreter, and that "we ought to let it mean what it wants to mean."

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

In the Chapel each morning a thirty-minutes' service is held, consisting of song, reading and explaining the Scriptures, and prayer.

All pupils in the Institute are required to meet together with the Faculty in these services.

The pupils hold a weekly prayer-meeting. They also have a well-organized Missionary Society which meets once a month. All pupils in the Institute are required to attend Sabbath school and church services on Sunday.

We advise the pupils to attend the regular weekly prayer-meetings of the church whenever possible and prudent for them to do so.

Course of Study.

The course of study is divided into five departments:

- I. Preparatory.
- II. Collegiate.
- III. Music.
- IV. Art.
- V. Expression.

Preparatory and Sub-Collegiate Department.

In this department, preparatory to the course in the Collegiate Department, instruction is given in English Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, Physical Geography, History of North Carolina and of the United States, Penmanship, Reading and Spelling (Spelling is taught through the entire course of study), Preparatory Latin and Primary Algebra.

The text-books used through the course in the Preparatory Department are:

- 1. Hyde's Practical Lessons in English, "First Book"
- 2. Maury's Manual of Geography and Physical Geography.
- 3. Sanford's Common School and Robinson's New Practical and Higher Arithmetics, Wentworth's First Steps in Algebra. The teacher of Mathematics in Collegiate Course teaches practical higher Arithmetic and "First Steps" in Algebra to preparatory pupils.

4. Supplementary reading from various sources.

5. Hansell's School History and Higher School History of the United States, Spencer's History of North Carolina.

6. Harkness' Easy Latin Method for Beginners; Harkness' Latin Grammar; Gate to Cæsar. Teacher of Collegiate Latin teaches preparatory Latin.

7. Buehler's English Grammar.

Collegiate Department.

This department is divided into six schools:

- I. Mathematics.
- II. Latin.
- III. French.
- IV. Natural Sciences.
- V. Moral Philosophy.
- VI. English and History.

I. SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS.

To enter the Junior Class, the student must thoroughly understand Sanford's Common School and Robinson's Practical Arithmetics or equivalents, First Steps in Algebra. The work of each class must be completed before entering the next higher.

JUNIOR CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

1. Algebra.—Wentworth's School Algebra.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

2. Algebra.—Wentworth's School Algebra and Robinson's University Algebra.
3. Geometry.—Wentworth's New Plane and Solid Geometry.

SENIOR CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

4. Geometry.—Wentworth's New Plane and Solid Geometry, completed.
5. Trigonometry.—Wentworth's Plane Trigonometry completed.

II. SCHOOL OF LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

Applicants for admission into the Junior Class are examined on the first day of the session. The examination will be on the Etymology of Bingham's Grammar, and will include the primary forms of Syntax. Simple sentences are given in English, to be translated into Latin.

Every effort is made to drill thoroughly in the language, so that in the beginning pupils may have a growing taste for their work.

JUNIOR CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

1. Grammar and Composition.—Bingham's Grammar, Allen and Greenough as reference Grammar, Arnold's Prose, Written Exercises.

2. Caesar.—Gallic War.

3. Virgil.—Æneid, Hexameter Verse.

4. Roman History.—Myer's.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS.—Four hours weekly.

5. Composition and Grammar.—Arnold's Prose (Mulholland, 1893), Written Exercises.

6. Cicero.—Orations Against Catiline.

7. Horace.—Odes, Lectures on the Augustan Poets.

8. Roman History.—Myer's.

SENIOR CLASS.—Three hours weekly.

9. Grammar and Composition.—Arnold's Prose, completed; Written Exercises. Thorough work in the more difficult principles of Syntax; Cæsar reviewed.

10. Livy.—Books XXI and XXII.

11. Cicero de Senectute.

III. SCHOOL OF FRENCH.

The work in this department covers three years. In the first year's work great stress is laid on pronunciation and the primary rules of Syntax. Reading is begun as early as advisable. In the second and third years the more difficult rules of Syntax are mastered, and the books for reading are carefully selected with the view of giving the pupil a thorough drill in all styles of literature—the drama, history, and conversation.

JUNIOR CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

1. Bue's First and Second French Books; French Reading.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS.—Four hours weekly.

2. Bue's First and Second French Books, completed; Charlenal's Complete French Course; French Classics.

SENIOR CLASS.—Three hours weekly.

3. Chardenal's Complete French Course, completed; Charlenal's Exercises for Advanced Pupils; Works of the Best Modern Authors.

IV. SCHOOL OF NATURAL SCIENCES.

Beginning with the session of 1905-'06, the Science Course generally will be enlarged and improved.

1. Zoology.—Four hours weekly during fall term of first year. The object of this work is to lead the student to a first-hand knowledge of the types of animal structure. Microscopic work required is examining forms and structures throughout the course in Zoology. Text-book—Steele's Popular Zoology.

2. Botany.—Four hours weekly in spring term of first year. The text-book and lectures are supplemented by the work of the class with plants and flowers in the fields. Plant analyses required. Drawings and diagrams form part of the work. Text-book—"Botany All the Year Round" with Flora, E. F. Andrews, American Book Company.

3. Human Physiology.—Four hours weekly in fall term of second year. The gross and microscopic anatomy of the human body is studied. The lecture-room is provided with a chart and a finely illustrated large mannikin. Text-book Martin's Human Body, briefer course.

4. Chemistry.—Beginning with session of 1905-'06, a full course in Chemistry will be arranged. The Laboratory will be well equipped for the required experiment work and an expert teacher placed in charge. Text-book—Cooley's Chemistry. Laboratory fee, $3.00.

5. Physics.—Four hours weekly in fall term of third year. New apparatus for this study will be provided as far as possible and the work improved in efficiency. Text-book—Cooley's Physics.

6. Astronomy.—Four recitations a week during spring term of third year. The principles of the science are thoroughly and clearly illustrated in lectures and by diagrams. Text-book—Todd's New Astronomy.

V. SCHOOL OF MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

Psychology, Moral Philosophy and Logic make up what is known and distinguished in the course of study as the School of Moral Philosophy. The student carefully prepares the lessons assigned from the text-books. The teacher questions upon the text and lectures on the teachings and positions taken by the authors. The students are encouraged and stimulated to the study of other authors and to form habits of thinking for themselves on the subjects treated in the text and by the teacher. These studies are taught during the senior year of the collegiate course. The text-books used in class are: Hill's Elements of Psychology, Peabody's Moral Philosophy, and Jevon's Logic.

Psychology.—Four hours weekly during fall term.

Moral Philosophy.—Two hours weekly during spring term.

Logic.—Two hours weekly during spring term.

VI. SCHOOL OF ENGLISH AND HISTORY.

ENGLISH.

In this department every effort is made to cultivate a literary taste and to lead the student to independence in literary judgment.

The library and reading-room are open at all times and research work is directed and encouraged.

JUNIOR CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

Meiklejohn's English Grammar, Lockwood's Lessons in English. The work of this year is especially arranged for students who are not sufficiently well prepared for more advanced work in literature and rhetoric. The student is given a knowledge of the rudimentary principles of composition and thoroughly drilled in analysis, grammatical construction, punctuation, and paragraphing. Theme work required every second week.

Parallel Work.—Irving's "Sketch Book," Longfellow's "Building of the Ship," Scott's "Lady of the Lake," Dicken's "Christmas Carol," Macaulay's "Lays of Ancient Rome," Ouida's "Dog of Flanders" and "The Nurnberg Store," Matthew Arnold's "Sohrab and Rustum."

INTERMEDIATE CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

Pancoast's Introduction to American Literature, Lockwood's Lessons in English (completed), Hill's Elements of Rhetoric and Composition.

The greater part of this year is devoted to the study of American authors, the last two months to the study of English authors. The writing of themes, sketches and anecdotes, etc., are required every second week.

Parallel Work.—Hawthorne's "House of Seven Gables," and Cooper's "Last of the Mohicans," Emerson's Essays, Longfellow's "Evangeline," and other poems; Lowell's "Vision of Sir Launfal," and selected essays. Selections from Franklin, Bryant, Webster, Poe, Whittier, Holmes, Whitman; Lanier's "Symphony," with additional poems from the later Southern poets.

SENIOR CLASS.—Five hours weekly.

Hill's Elements of Rhetoric and Composition (completed), Pancoast's Introduction to English Literature. The course during the Senior Year is given by lectures on the era, the man and works, supplemented by material from the text-books.

Literary topics, analyses of books and original essay work are required.

Parallel Reading.—Spencer's "Fairy Queen" (two books), Shakespeare's "King Lear," "Othello," "Julius Cæsar," "Twelfth Night," Dowden's "Shakespeare—His Mind and Art," Milton's "L' Allegro," "Il Penseroso," "Comus and Lycidas," selections from "Paradise Lost," selections from Addison, Swift, Pope, Johnson; poems of Wordsworth, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats, Byron, Burns, Scott; Scott's "Kenilworth," Dicken's "David Copperfield," Thackeray's "Vanity Fair," George Eliot's "Mill on the Floss"; cuttings from Carlyle, Arnold and Ruskin.

SEMINARY CLASS.—Elective. Two hours weekly.

Study of Tennyson and Browning, Stoddard Brooke's "Tennyson—His Relation to His Times," and Stoddard Brooke's "Browning," Corson's Introduction to the Study of Browning. A careful study of Tennyson's "Idylls of the King" and Tennyson's dramatic monologues constitute the work for the fall term. A study of Browning's dramatic monologues, "Pippa Passes," "Paracelsus," and selections from "The Ring and the Book" constitutes the spring work. The student is required to write critical studies of the works covered on class.

The required reading is subject to change from year to year.

JUNIOR CLASS.—Three hours weekly.

Anderson's English History. Montgomery's Leading Facts in French History.

SENIOR CLASS.—Three hours weekly.

Myer's General History. Tales of Ancient Greece.

The aim of this department is to give the student an enlarged view of the world's history. The student is required to hand in a note-book at the end of each term showing maps of the various countries studied, and a resume of the most important historical events. Care is taken to keep before the student the making of history, and on each Monday a lecture is given on a current topic bearing on the world's history.

Graduation.

ENGLISH DIPLOMA.—To be entitled to the English Diploma, the student must complete the full course in Mathematics, Natural Sciences, Moral Philosophy, English and History.

FULL DIPLOMA.—To be entitled to the Full Diploma, the student must complete the work required for the English Diploma, and the full course in Latin and the full course in French.

School of Music.

This department offers superior advantages to the student of music in its various branches. Piano playing, voice culture, chorus work, musical history and harmony are all taught by competent and experienced teachers.

PIANO.

This department, which is divided into different grades, is a systematic course of study founded upon the advanced modern methods used by the instructors in the best Conservatories. Special attention is given to the development of the hands by a careful practice of finger, arm and wrist in gymnasium and technical exercises, with and without the use of the instrument, and also by the practice of the best selected exercises of the old and modern masters.

Public recitals will be given at suitable times, so that each pupil may have the opportunity of being brought before the public, and thus gain confidence.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR THE PIANOFORTE.

The following is a partial list of selections used in the different grades. Time allotted to each grade will depend upon amount of daily practice and natural capacity of the pupil:

GRADE I.—Book I of the New England Conservatory. Czerny five-finger exercises. Analysis and formation of major scales. Bertini Op. 100. Kohler's Primary Studies, Op. 50.

GRADE II.—Duvernoy Op. 120. Loeschorn Op. 65. Krause Op. 4. Scales and arpeggios, Czerny Op. 139. Clementi Sonatas Op. 36, and other simple works by Merkel, Gurlitt, Mozart, Hummel.

GRADE III.—Analysis and formation of minor scales, practice chromatic scales and double thirds, Krause Op. 5 (two books). Krause Op. 9, studies in broken chords, Mendelssohn's Songs Without Words—the easiest ones. Selections of moderate difficulty from Hummel, Greig, and the easiest sonatas from Mozart and Haydn.

GRADE IV.—Faelten's Technic, Book 3. Bach's Inventions. Beethoven's Sonatas Op. 10, Nos. 1 and 2. Heller Phrasing Studies. Pieces for developing the Technic—Raff, La Fileuse; Von Weber, Movement—Perpetual; Bach; Toccato and Fugue.

GRADE V.—Faelten's Studies, Book 4. Clementi's Gradus ad Parnassum. Moschele's Studies. Kullak Octave Studies. Bach 48 Preludes and Fugues. Chopin Balladen; Polonaises. Selections from Liszt, Brahms, Schumann Noveletes, etc.

Students in Grades III, IV and V are required to take a prescribed course in Musical History and Harmony.

To secure a diploma in Piano, the course here laid down, together with Musical History and Harmony, must be completed.

Department of Voice Culture

This course is devoted to voice building and development of vocal technique. Careful attention is paid to proper placement of the voice, correct breathing, pronunciation and expression. Instruction is given in classes of three or four students, or privately.

All students in the School of Music will have the opportunity of taking chorus work free of charge.

Mrs. Bessie Worthington Horne, of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., established in the Institute in 1904 a Medal in Voice Music in honor of her father and mother, to be known as the "Julia Worthington Voice Improvement Medal." Mrs. Horne and her mother, Julia Worthington, are alumnae of the Institute.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR THE VOICE

FIRST AND SECOND GRADES.—Voice building, Viardot-Garcia Exercises and Vocalises of Panoika.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES.—Exercises in Vocalization by Concone, Marchesi, ballads and songs of moderate difficulty.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADES.—More difficult exercises in technique, study of Concert, Oratorio and Operatic Music.

School of Expression.

Physical Culture.

SARAH CRADDOCK, B. E., Director.

(Rawlings Institute, Ralston University of Expression.)

We firmly believe that the art of Expression is the most valuable of all means of education, for the reason that it develops those qualities of mind, body and heart that are most needed in every useful and successful life. Therefore it is the purpose of this department—

1. To stimulate and develop the mental and physical faculties of pupils so that they may be rendered capable of performing the highest duties in life for which they are fitted.

2. To present the study of articulative speech as the most important means of education in human life, for the reason that it is the one divine gift that most clearly distinguishes mankind from the lower species.

3. To present the art of expression as an accomplishment both beautiful and useful, capable of winning a livelihood when so directed, and always helpful in home and social pleasures.

4. To correct faults in the physical and æsthetic habits of each pupil, implant readiness of manner, self-control and personal power; to teach grace, ease, polish and refinement; and evolve, so far as may be possible in the individual, whatever talents may have been bestowed by nature.

The course of study which leads to graduation in this department covers two years' work in Expression and Physical Culture; besides which the pupil must have creditably completed the prescribed course in English Literature and Physiology before being eligible to graduation from the Department of Expression. The following young women are the first graduates in the School of Expression, May 17, 1905: Miss Lucy Freeman Boone, Miss Lizzie Dorene Hoggard, Miss Denie Mae Horton, Miss Julia Catre Scarborough, Miss Harriet Lois Vann.

Department of Fine Arts.

This department is under the direction of an artist of talent and ability. It presents superior advantages to those who wish to cultivate their taste for the Fine Arts. The students work largely from life. The work for 1904-'05 included studies from still life and from copies, in crayon, pencil, charcoal, water-color, pastel and oil—tapestry and china. For burning china the Art Department has been furnished with a first-class up-to-date kiln.

Schedule of Art Studies.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

1. Straight lines.
2. Geometrical figures.
3. Familiar figures in outline.
4. Same outline, shaded in pencil.

INTERMEDIATE COURSE.

1. Outlines from the round and geometrical figures, and torical ornament.
2. Same outlines, shaded in crayon.
3. Free-hand drawing.
4. Lessons in perspective.

ADVANCED COURSE.

1. Elementary perspective.
2. Preparatory studies in oil and water colors.
3. Anatomy and proportion of the human figure, together with expression.
4. Landscape pictures and portraits in oil and in crayon. Painting on china a specialty.

Domestic Department.

This department receives the personal attention of the wife of the President. The table is supplied with wholesome food, served under the supervision of a lady of experience, who thoroughly understands her business.

Remarks on Course of Study and Examinations.

1. A student making application for admission to the Junior Class (first year), is allowed to do so without entrance examination. However, if at the end of a reasonable length of time the student shows herself incapable of doing the work of the Junior year, she will be put in the Sub-Collegiate Classes.

2. Any student making application for admission to the Intermediate or to the Senior Class, will be required to pass an examination on the work of the preceding college class or classes.

3. When a student has pursued the course of study prescribed for any department in some other collegiate institution of high grade, she will be allowed to stand the examinations in that department with the class, and if she makes three-fourths of the maximum she will receive a certificate of proficiency.

4. Written examinations are held twice during a session, and in making out reports the daily and examination grades count each one-half. When a grade falls below three-fourths of the maximum (100), the pupil is required to make up the deficiency before she can graduate. Merely going over a course does not secure a diploma.

5. Instruction in the Preparatory Department is given by the regular teachers in the Collegiate Course.

6. The programme is arranged for pupils to have full work without overtaxing the ability of any.

7. Students desiring to take special work in any department or departments without graduation, may do so.

8. A Special Course is offered to women desiring to make thorough preparation for teaching in public schools.

Golden Reports.

When a student is absent from no recitation, except when sick or having been excused by the teacher, is perfect in department, and makes an average of 95 on her studies, she receives a golden report.

Charges for Scholastic Year.

(Payable one-half on entrance.)

Literary tuition	$43.00
Board, including all necessary appurtenances, except laundry	85.00

EXTRA AND OPTIONAL.

Instrumental Music	38.00
For use of Piano (each pupil), two periods per day...	5.00
Vocal Music in Class	10.00
Vocal Music, Special Lessons	38.00
Elocution	38.00
Art, including Oil Painting, China Painting, Drawing, Crayon, Pastel, Water Colors	38.00
Reading-Room and Incidental Fee	3.00

Charges, which are moderate, are made payable one-half at beginning of the annual session and one-half at the middle of the session. This is so because supplies must be secured in advance, and teachers must be paid, as they need funds. In cases of necessity, on application, reasonable time may be given. Settlement must be made by the end of the session.

Those desiring to room alone will be charged $10.00 extra. A request of this kind will be granted only in case of there being a room to spare.

All boarders are required to furnish one counterpane, one pair of blankets, one pair of sheets, one pair pillow-cases, towel and table napkins.

Each pupil should be provided with umbrella, waterproof and overshoes.

Books and sheet music are sold to the President by publishers and dealers for cash. To meet these bills, pupils will be required to pay for books and music when delivered.

The daughters of ministers who live by the ministry are admitted to all the advantages of the Literary Department at a discount of fifty per cent.

Remarks.

1. To parents who seek mainly opportunities for successful study in sending their daughters from home, this institution offers important advantages.
2. The Institute is in easy reach of pupils wishing to attend its sessions. Those along the line of the Southern Railway or the Atlantic Coast Line, or lines connected with these, come by way of these roads to Tunis, on the Chowan River, and thence by steamer up the Chowan and Meherrin Rivers to Murfreesboro. Those along the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, and lines connected with it, get off at Franklin, Va., and take steamer down the river to Winton, and thence to Murfreesboro, or get off at Conway, N. C., where, on notice before given to the President, hacks will meet them and take them across the country to Murfreesboro, a distance of six miles. Those coming from Southeastern Virginia or from Northeastern North Carolina, if they so choose, can come by steamer from the various points along the rivers and sounds, up the Chowan and Meherrin rivers to Murfreesboro. Boat makes close connection daily with all trains at Tunis. Those wishing special information about routes of travel from their homes can get it by addressing the President at Murfreesboro, N. C.

3. We are glad to have parents or guardians visit the school at any time, and learn from the teachers and their own observations in the recitation-room how their daughters and wards are progressing.

4. Parents should write to the President himself, and not to their daughters, in regard to health, desired changes in studies, permission to visit, or other special privileges. The reasons for this requirement are obvious.

5. There is no extra charge for languages in regular course.

6. When desirable, we endeavor to secure situations for young women who have been pupils at the Institute, and whose attainments and deportment are satisfactory.
